Why?

We invite you to be a contributing member to the global network of JCCs, a vehicle for inspiration and benefit- all for the sake of ensuring a thriving Jewish future.

The world is rapidly changing and so is the landscape of Jewish engagement. Technological trends impact every aspect of our lives, human behavior, family structures and society. Life as we know it is altered in ways beyond our imagination. For today's world a network centric approach is required to achieve greater impact and solve problems. In an era of constant change, perpetual crises and limited resources, networks can assemble novel and flexible combinations of human talent that would be difficult or impossible to pull together in a single organization.

Where?

Crown Plaza Hotel, Jerusalem

PROGRAM DRAFT

Once again, we will meet in Israel for the ONLY World Conference of JCCs. At this conference we are going to present main findings from several research projects that are delving into the beliefs and behaviors of Jews around the world with the specific focus on Jewish community in Latin America and Europe. You will have a chance to discuss and debate since you are the main actors of this conference as we believe the wisdom, knowledge and experience rests in every JCC- big or small, close or distant. In addition, experts, scholars and role models will be invited to engage and cross pollinate this important gathering.
